AI + Live Pop-In™

The industry's first blended automated + live proctoring technology

Honorlock reimagined online proctoring by combining the benefits of Artificial Intelligence (AI) with those of live remote proctors to help protect online exams, reduce student test anxiety, and empower students and faculty.

Our people drive decisions using data from artificial intelligence – AI doesn't drive us.

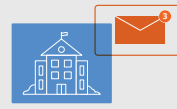

Honorlock's exam proctoring software monitors each student's exam session and alerts a live, US-based test proctor if it detects any potential problems. This provides our proctors with the opportunity to chat with the student, address behavior, and help the student get back on track.
