With Desktop Alerts your messages will never be missed or not read! Directly send vital information to your staff in the form of desktop pop-up messages that will appear on top of any other application. Acknowledgement buttons in pop ups, give you an exact idea of who has and (more importantly) who hasn't read your message; giving you a clear indication of your message's reach.

Explore our powerful features

Our Desktop Alert solution is developed with unique, specific features to raise its efficiency in conducting your messages. To achieve the true omnichannel effect, our complete suite has even more to offer. “

The alert messages are instantly visible to our employees, taken seriously and – even more importantly – instructions are followed. Combined with our existing alarm system, this is an extremely effective way of alerting everybody.”
