

Epicor Prophet 21 Distribution Software

Epicor Prophet 21 is a leading ERP solution for wholesale distributors that is easy to use and highly flexible.

With more than a half-century of experience, Epicor helps distributors grow sales, improve margins, and increase productivity with enterprise resource planning (ERP) systems that keep them healthy and thriving in today's highly competitive marketplace.

Cloud-Based Distribution ERP System

Prophet 21® software combines proven distribution expertise with a web-enabled infrastructure and modern technology stack. Cloud and on-premises deployment options are also available, allowing you to choose the deployment that is right for your business, while letting you scale, evolve, and grow your business.

Available on a browser-based version or as a desktop application, Prophet 21 software enables your most critical business areas to work more efficiently, including:

- Customer Relationship Management—CRM tools allow you to access information quickly and efficiently so you can streamline your day-to-day processes while improving customer service
- Sales Order Management—whether orders are entered at the counter, remotely via a mobile device or laptop, or online by the customer, the information goes directly into your Prophet 21 solution for fast order processing
- eCommerce—when you deploy Epicor Commerce Connect (ECC)—a cloud-based eCommerce solution—you can help increase sales, reach new customers, and shorten sales cycles for your products and services
