OVERVIEW

Selflessly is a software platform designed for leading companies to embrace the next generation of employee-empowered philanthropy. We have digitized time, talent, and treasure to create a full-featured and inclusive platform for employees to make impact where and how they want.

Our system can support your initiatives out of the box or can be used as a framework to develop customized workflows and features to fit your social impact strategy.

PAST PERFORMANCE

TEAM BACKGROUND

The Selflessly team brings experience from both corporate and nonprofit, technology and operations, and startup to enterprise – with a strong desire to expand the distribution of resources from company to community. We understand the barriers and pain points that companies face when wanting to do good, but unable to find the right partner to support their goals.
