

Never miss another call

Since 2015, AI has powered our products. AI Receptionist breaks new ground as the first AI-led answering service backed by human receptionists.

Proprietary AI technology

Using our data from over 20 million phone calls, AI language models, and natural language processing, AI Receptionist is capable of handling every inbound call to your business.

Humans in-the-loop, 24/7

Smith.ai's live agents are available to every caller, ensuring requests for human assistance are met with a friendly, professional receptionist.

Easy setup, money-back guarantee

Our guided setup takes 5 minutes, so you can get right back to work. Try AI Receptionist risk-free with our 30-day money-back guarantee.

Call intelligence and metadata

Stay in the loop and make better business decisions with real-time and historical call data — available in every Smith.ai dashboard.

Appointment scheduling

Our receptionists book appointments on the calendar software you already use.

Call recording and transcription

Never miss a detail. You can review the audio recording and transcript for any call. Make recordings shareable if you choose.

Stay connected on your terms

Focus on your clients while we handle your calls — or receive call transfers if desired. Real-time notifications keep you in the loop.

White-glove setup and support

AI Receptionist is fully DIY, but we won't leave you stranded. If you need any assistance — tactical or technical — we're here for you.
