DeskRoll

About DeskRoll

DeskRoll is a modern remote desktop solution. It has been designed to be ultimately easy to use. So, it is very lightweight and focused on essential remote desktop needs.

DeskRoll licensing has been developed with attention to the needs of small businesses. However, enterprise customers won't be disappointed as we are offering every customization option possible.

Your Benefits

- Ease of use.
- Free full-featured 30 days trial.
- Rich support of operating systems.
- Remote access from all modern mobile devices (iOS, Android, Blackberry, etc.).
- Pay-as-you-go options (buy licenses only when you use the service).
- Unlimited computers per license.
- Unlimited devices per license.
- Flexible licensing, including discounts and bulk/enterprise options.
- High security, extra security options for enterprise customers.
- Lots of customization options, including custom development (see Customization whitepaper for details).

DeskRoll

How We Compare to Others

Remote access software market is very competitive. Remote access needs went mainstream over 20 years ago. Naturally, major players have big experience in the field. However, technologies are developing fast and remote access needs are also evolving.

Leveraging modern technologies and taking a deeper look into today's customer needs, we make remote access a better experience.

Advantages over Competitors

- No big initial/lifetime fees.
- No major upgrade fees.
- Lightweight components (quick to download).
- No need for any browser plug-ins like Adobe Flash.
- Fast peer-to-peer connections directly from browser (Google Chrome).
- Custom features/functionality development for enterprise clients.

If you got special needs, then we'll be glad to tailor DeskRoll to meet them in the best way possible. That includes custom licensing, custom development, localization, etc.

Contact us by email, or we can schedule a call at your convenience.

Resellers and Affiliates

We have programs for resellers and affiliates. We offer individual approach to make DeskRoll partnership a profitable and pleasant experience for all parties involved. Contact us at sales@deskroll.com for details.

Company Information

Tomsk Inc. has almost a decade-long expertise in developing remote access tools for helpdesks. We are headquartered in Cupertino, CA, USA. It's the heart of Silicon Valley where you operate side by side with some of the world's biggest high tech companies and see ambitious startups meet their success.